

Kristin Yanish

Kristin Yanish is a lifelong resident of the Altadena and Pasadena area, where she annually participates in the Tournament of Roses New Year's traditions. She attended local grammar and high schools. In 2008 she obtained her Masters Degree in Education from Loyola Marymount University. For the last 19 years Kristin has shared her expertise in education while teaching at St. Philip the Apostle School, in Pasadena.

She is a supporter of fundraisers for Pediatric Brain Tumors and has participated in walks for this cause. In addition, there have been other walks she has organized for her faculty and staff for this and other cancers. Kristin has been active in volunteering her time at Mater Dolorosa Passionists Retreat Center in Sierra Madre for the last ten years. Her late father introduced her to the Pasadena Police Foundation, where she participates in the Chief's Annual Breakfast.

Kristin enjoys spending time with her family and friends as well as traveling.
